Rob Hamilton The Concrete Philosopher

Rob Hamilton, The Concrete Philosopher has worked with my real estate development company, Diamond Head Development, a number of times over the last decade. I have never met a man who is more knowledgeable and passionate about protecting and surfacing concrete.

Building in Squamish BC is challenging, both because of the amount of water the community receives and the amount of granite rock that exists in the ground. Particularly, a large piece of granite will funnel water in a specific direction and there is no way to stop or divert its course. The only course of action is to protect against the eventual and continual onslaught of the water.

Rob has repaired and protected a number of foundations in the community and made them stronger and safer than they ever were. His use of Kryton's superior products ensures that the concrete will live for decades in this task.

One aspect that separates Rob from other contractors is his customer service. You can rely on him to answer the call at anytime and then get the job done.

My final and ultimate stamp of approval for Rob comes from the fact that I have had him repair, protect and waterproof the foundation of my own personal residence.

Please call at 604 892 5160 for any additional information.
